TROUBLE BREWS AT ARMS CONFERENCE FIRST AND SPECIAL SESSION

EFFORT TO SETTLE FAR EAST QUESTIONS LEAD TO FIRST SHARP

BRITISH, FRENCH, JAPANESE AND CHI-NESE BECOME ENTANGLED IN CON-TROVERSY REGARDING INTERPRE-TATION BY POWERS OF ROOT RESO-LUTIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The attempt to settle specific problems troubling the Far East led today to the first sharp clash of opinions in the arms conference. A British view of the concrete application of the four general principles adopted met with a challenge from the Chinese and the Chinese delegates were pointedly asked by the French to show by what authority they presumed to speak for all of China over protests of the South China government at Canton.

Strangely enough the Japanese, who had been the first to raise objections to the consideration of details of the Far East, came forward with a suggestion that they would not oppose an examination of their famous twenty-one demands treaty with China to ascertain whether it conflicts with the open door.

Brief Resume

of Arms Parley

Although the action of the French in questioning the credentials of the Chinese caused a momentary flurry in the meeting of the nine delegations, the divergence of opinion between the Chinese and British over application of the four principles of the Root resolution attracted widest attention because of its possible effect on future negotiations. Should the British view prevail, declared the Chinese, it would mean an internationalization of Chinese economic resources.

the negotiations by furnishing whatever information they could.

The difference of view between the British and Chinese developed when a British spokesman explained to newspaper men that his government regarded the four accepted principles as meaning acceptance by China of a financial consortium, pooling of the operation of railroad concessions held by the powers, and continued supervision of China's customs. The Root resolutions, according to the British viewpoint, were adopted with acceptance by China of these principles in view by the signatory powers.

The Chinese quickly sent out word that they had agreed to no such program. While Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to the United States declined to enter into a detailed tiscussion of the interpretation in the absence of an official statement containing them, the Chinese delegation declared committee discussion had brought forth no expression by the delegates of the British view, and that China placed no such interpretation on them. The consortium, Dr. Sze said, had not been mentioned.

According to the Chinese view, the Root resolutions apply to the open door, as embodied in the policy defined by John Hay, waiving of special rights and privileges, thhampered political and economic development of China and assurances of her territorial, political and administrative integrity.

AGREE TO ACCEPT CAPPIERS WOUL OF MERCHANDISE

MADELIA, Minn., Nov. 23.—
Merchants of Madelia have decided to accept corn as payment for debts and for purchases of merchandise. This action was taken yesterday and followed complaint of farmers that they were unable to meet financial obligations. The farmers held the low market price of corn made it impractical for them to haul grain to market.

Merchants came forward with an offer that they will accept corn as payment of debts and for payment of current purchases, giving the farmer 10 cents a bushel above the prevailing market price. The barter system of trade opens Saturday and continues 20 days.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23-Facing each other in an executive session, delegations of the great powers exchanged opinions today on the limitation of armies as it touches Europe, but adjourned without making a joint declaration of policy, either as to Europe or general land armament.

Europe or general land armament.

Premier Briand of France, making his last appearance in the conference before leaving, reiterated reasons why his country must maintain the world's largest army and suggested that the only alternative would be a pledge by the powers to aid France should Germany or any other nation again threaten civilization.

Chinese Deny Program Acceptance
The French objection was interested to the posterior of the plane by which China would regain usuff autonomy by a gradual change from foreign control. garding elements of the Far Eastern negotiations. At today's executive session of the nine delegations the right of the Chinese delegates to speak for all of China was reported to have been questioned by France and later a British interpretation of the general principles adopted was challenged by some of the Chinese. Earlier in the day the land armament problem had been debated behind closed doors by the delegates of the big five powers without further result than the appointment of a new sub-committee to consider collateral subjects like the use of airplanes and poison gases. Premier Briand of France, making his farewell speech to the conference, pressed his argument that his country dared not distant unless she had guarantees from the other powers and although the general discussion drew renewed expressions of sympathy from every other national group, no one proposed any formal joint declaration of policy.

The suggested reduction on carload shipments, it was explained, would cover grains, hay, cotton and cotton seed and its products—except meal and oil—citrus and fresh fruits, live-stock and dairy products.

The proposed scope of the cut in wages was not indicated, the statement merely saying that "the benefit of the reduction thus obtained," from the railroad labor board shall be passed to the public in reduced rates.

Any reduction in rates made since September 1, 1220, would "constitute a part of this 10 per cent," under the railroad's suggestion.
